THIS company was registered December 29th, 1900, to acquire the Victoria and other copper properties, area about 45 square miles, on the Andes Mountains, Argentine Republic, near the Chili border. The consideration was 41,000 fully-paid shares. In 1904 the company acquired the adjacent Las Choicas copper mine, the consideration being £10,000 in fully-paid shares for the option, and £25,000, payable £13,000 in fully-paid shares and three cash payments of £4,000 each on October 1st, 1905, 1906 and 1907. The local administration is in Chili, the property being more accessible from the Chilian side. It is estimated that 100,000 tons of ore are opened up, averaging 8 per cent. copper and 5ozs. silver per ton; reduction plant to treat 100 tons of ore daily is erected, but not at work. A reorganisation scheme is proposed.

The authorised capital is £300,000, in 250,000 shares of £1 each and 250,000 B shares of 4s. each; 205,000 shares of £1 each and 201,238 B shares are issued and fully paid. The capital was increased from £100,000 to £175,000 in February, 1905, to £250,000 in October, 1906, and to the present amount in January, 1908, by creation of the B shares which were offered pro rata to shareholders at par (issue guaranteed); all shares rank alike. In December, 1905, 70,000 shares (part of an issue of 105,000) were offered for public subscription, the issue being underwritten for 10 per cent. commission; the objects of the last increase of capital were to pay off about £20,000 debentures and debts and to provide further working capital. There are £38,000 ten per cent. first mortgage debentures redeemable July, 1926, at par or earlier at 105 per cent. on three months' notice, also £30,000 ten per cent. second mortgage debentures, redeemable at par January, 1923, or at 110 per cent. after 1912 on six months' notice; interest payable January 1st and July 1st. On February 2nd, 1910, the above receiver was appointed on behalf of the debenture-holders.

The accounts to March 31st, 1909, submitted November 30th, 1910, showed net general and mining development expenditure to date £47,215; London expenditure £28,183; cash £362, debtors £1,830, bills receivable £2,905; creditors £9,018, loans £8,155.

THIS company was registered on December 4th, 1903, and is a reconstruction of the Mount Yagahong Exploration Co., Ltd. (see vol. for 1904).

The company carries on a mining and financial business, and acquired several interests in Western Australia which have been disposed of, with the exception of an interest in the Star of the East Gold Mining Co., Ltd., which is still held. At June 30th, 1910, the company held shares and debentures in the Middleburg Steam Coal and Coke Co., Ltd., of the nominal value of £48,500; 103,187 shares in the Kinta Kellas, Klian Kellas and Northumberland Rubber Companies, with option over a further 208,000 shares in those companies; an interest in the Inhambane Oil Union, Ltd.; the Wheal Jenkins and Marke Valley tin mining leases in Cornwall, and 500 mining claims at Pilgrims Rest, Lydenburg District, Transvaal.

The authorised capital is £75,000, in 750,000 shares of 2s. each; 474,579 shares (£47,457 18s.) are issued and fully paid. In August, 1909, 100,000 shares were offered to shareholders at par (one for every five held), subscribers having an option to September 1st, 1910, to take up another share at 3s. in respect of every share subscribed. The capital, formerly £225,000 in 10s. shares, 415,747 issued, was increased in May, 1909, to £241,298 16s. by creation of 162,988 shares of 2s. each and conversion of 34,253 unissued shares into 171,265 shares of 2s. each. In June, 1909, it was reduced to present amount by writing off 8s. per share on 415,747 issued shares of 10s. each. Under the reconstruction scheme in 1903 one share credited as 8s. paid was offered for each old fully-paid 10s. share.

Dividend paid:—For 1909-10, 12½ per cent., October, 1910.

Additional particulars officially supplied:—This company employs an entirely new process for the magnetic concentration of ores by the wet method. It is not necessary that the values in the ores should be in themselves magnetic. They may be magnetic or non-magnetic. The process can be employed on sulphide ores, either in simple or complex—and in the case of complex ores the minerals are subsequently separated from each other—also on oxides and carbonates, &c., and on ores carrying gold which present difficulties in cyaniding.

Installations are in progress in the following countries:—

BROKEN HILL, AUSTRALIA.
SPAIN AND SOUTH SAXONY.

And additional plants are either being erected in, or under construction for:—

WESTERN AUSTRALIA.
BOLIVIA.
GERMANY (Harz District).
SOUTH OF FRANCE (Malines Mines).
BRITISH COLUMBIA.

The company has a large technical staff, and is prepared to advise on the treatment of such ores as present difficulty in concentration.

THIS company was registered December 8th, 1905, being a reconstruction of the Mysore Reefs and General Exploration Co., Ltd., registered July 17th, 1902 (see vol. for 1905), which was a seventh reconstruction of the Mysore Reefs Gold Mining Co., Ltd., first registered November 20th, 1880.

The company now carries on a general exploration and financial business, and holds shares in the Anantapur, North Anantapur, St Nect, and Anglo-French Guinea Companies. In June, 1908, the company guaranteed the subscription of 15,000 shares of the Anantapur Gold Field, Ltd., receiving a commission of 20 per cent. in fully paid shares.

The authorised capital is £50,000, in 40,000 preference and 160,000 ordinary shares of 5s. each; 37,490 preference and 159,986 ordinary shares are issued and fully paid, making paid-up capital £49,369. Holders received one fully-paid 5s. share for each old fully-paid £1 share of similar class, the object of reconstruction being to reduce the paid-up capital from £197,469 by writing off book value of Indian property (abandoned), rendering profits available for distribution. The preference shares (with priority for capital) first take a non-cumulative dividend of 40 per cent. per annum, the ordinary then take a similar dividend, and all shares rank alike for any remaining profits.

The accounts for year to March 31st, 1910, submitted July 21st, 1910, showed net general expenditure to date £3,067; investments at cost £11,022, cash £7,921; creditors £43, liability on shares held £5,168.

THIS company was registered August 28th, 1901, being a reconstruction of the Siberian Goldfields Development Co., Ltd., registered May 3rd, 1900 (see vol. for 1903). The company owns a concession for 24 years from January 1st, 1904, renewable for a similar period granted by the private Cabinet of H.I.M. Nicholas II., Emperor of all the Russias, for working gold-sands, reefs and ore beds over about 6,200 square miles in Eastern Siberia, in the Eastern Nerchinsk district, also an exclusive prospecting licence over the concession area and the right to call for mining leases of any mines located before that date within the free lands comprised in the concession area.

The present company obtained from the Russian Government the necessary authority to operate in Russia in July, 1902. Crushing commenced on the Mount Kluchi block in July, 1905, the yield for year ending June, 1906, was 4,180 tons crushed yielded 1,863ozs. gold, value £6,942. This property has been sold to the Kluchi Gold Mines, Ltd., for £25,000 cash and £145,000 in fully-paid shares. During 1907, the exclusive prospecting rights over certain areas, selected by the company's engineer, were extended until January 1st, 1910, over one portion, and to January, 1911, over the remainder, the company releasing their rights over other areas, at the same time retaining the right to prospect, at any future time, such areas released, as might then be free. The areas selected are intersected by the Rivers Ourium, Yenda, Itaka, Jeltooga, Boogojio, Gorbitza, and Itakenda and their tributaries.

The authorised capital is £1,100,000, in 1,100,000 shares of £1 each; 969,513 shares are issued and fully paid. This company was registered April 20th, 1893, and is a reconstruction of the Nundydroog Gold Mining Co., Ltd., registered November 6th, 1880 (see vol. for 1900). The Nundydroog property comprises a block of 622¼ acres, situate on the Kolar Goldfield, Mysore territory, India, adjoining the northern boundary of the Ooregum property, and held subject to a royalty of 5 per cent. on value of gold produced. The company has obtained a renewal of its leases for 30 years from March 22nd 1910; terms of existing leases to remain unchanged, except that from March 22nd, 1910, an additional royalty of 2½ per cent. upon dividends distributed becomes payable. In 1904 the property of the Oriental Gold Mining Co. of India, Ltd. (registered February 16th, 1901, see vol. for 1905), area 213¼ acres, forming part of the Oriental Block, Kolar Goldfield, Mysore, was purchased for £3,000 cash and 12,000 fully-paid shares, and in 1910 a piece of land lying between the northern boundary of the Nundydroog mine and the southern boundary of the Oriental Block was acquired from the Mysore West and Mysore

Wynaad Companies for £6,400 and a royalty of 4s. per ton of ore stoped from the property acquired. The possession of this area gives direct underground access to the Oriental Block.

A 40-stamp battery was at work on the Nundydroog property up to June, 1896, when a new 30-stamp mill was started. A further 10 new stamps were added in 1903, and 80 stamps are now working, also cyanide plant (recently enlarged). Ore reserves; at December, 1908, 120,895 tons; at December, 1909, 126,244 tons.

The authorised capital is £410,000, divided into 240,000 preference and 580,000 ordinary shares of 10s. each; all the preference and 481,544 ordinary shares are issued, 229 162 preference and the ordinary being fully paid, and 10,838 preference 2s. 6d. paid (see below), but ranking as fully paid for dividends. The last call on the ordinary was 5s. payable December 31st, 1907. The preference shares are entitled to a non-cumulative preferential dividend of 10 per cent. per annum and rank equally with the ordinary shares for all remaining profits.

The capital was formerly £245,000, in 120,000 preference and 125,000 ordinary shares of £1 each, all of which were issued and fully paid; the preference shares having been issued at 15s. per share discount, 46,934 (£1 shares, now 93,868 10s. shares) were afterwards declared liable for the amount of the discount, and upon 83,030 of these (10s. shares) the amount has since been paid up, leaving 10,838 with the liability outstanding (although receiving the same dividend as the fully paid); the capital was increased in April, 1891, to £265,000 by the creation of 20,000 new ordinary shares, which were allotted to the Gold Fields of Mysore, Limited, as above, and in November, 1900, it was increased to £291,500 by the creation of 26,500 new ordinary shares, which were issued to shareholders at £3 each; in 1901 the capital was sub-divided into 10s. shares. In November,

1903, the capital was increased to present amount by creation of 100,000 additional ordinary shares of 10s., which were issued to shareholders at £1 each, and again in April, 1907, by creation of 137,060 ordinary shares of 10s. each, which were offered to shareholders at par at the rate of one for every five shares held; 38,544 taken up.

This company was registered June 5th, 1909, to acquire the entire issued share capital of Oroville Dredging, Ltd., a company registered in Maine, U.S.A., June 19th, 1905, owning the issued capital of the Boston and California Dredging Co., Boston, and Oroville Mining Co., Oroville Gold Dredging & Exploration Co., and Bear River Mining Co., possessing about 2,500 acres of gold dredging ground on the Feather River, near Sacramento, Cal., U.S.A., and in the Bear River Basin, near Wheatland, Yuba County, Cal. Shareholders in the Oroville Dredging, Ltd., received one fully-paid £1 share for every $5 share held. Six dredgers are at work.

During 1909, a gold dredging concession, 22,000 acres in extent, situate on the west bank of the Nechi River, six miles distant from Zaragoza, Antioquia, Colombia, was acquired. The Pato Mines (Colombia), Ltd., has been formed to deal with the property (see that company), 75 per cent. of the issued capital being held by Oroville Dredging, Ltd. To complete the purchase and equipment of the Pato property, dividends were postponed during 1910 and funds were provided by the working of the Californian properties and the sale of three dredges. As soon as the Oroville profits become available, and the Pato dredge is at work, regular quarterly dividends are expected.

The authorised capital is £700,000, in 700,000 shares of £1 each, 640,215 shares are issued and fully paid.

Dividends paid (by Oroville Dredging, Ltd.): 1905, 2½ per cent.; 1906, 10 per cent.; 1907, 7½ per cent.; 1908, 10 per cent.; 1909, 7½ per cent. (By present company): 2½ per cent. December 31st, 1909.

The accounts of the American company for year ended July 31st, 1909, showed $310,175 net profit and debit balance increased to $62,911 after adding debit balance forward and paying dividends; this debit balance was deducted from reserve fund, leaving that account at $33,451.

The statutory report was submitted September 17th, 1909.

Transfer form, common; fee, 2s, 6d. The 20th October, 1909, was appointed settling day in shares Nos. 1 to 505,369, and November 29th, 1910, in Nos. 551,167 to 557,057. Latest price, 7s., 8s.

This company was registered March 1st, 1906, to acquire as a going concern from the Siberian Proprietary Mines, Ltd., a lease for three years of the Orsk Goldfields, area 16,000 acres, province of Orenburg, Southern Ural, at a rental of 150,000 roubles per annum, with an option to purchase. The consideration for the lease and option was £375,000, payable in 500,000 shares credited as 15s. paid. The lease and option have been abandoned. The company subsequently acquired 11 alluvial claims on the Suvunduk River, area 2,416 acres, but these were afterwards abandoned, with the exception of one claim.

In view of the abandonment of the Orenburg properties, the company in March, 1909, acquired through the Russian Mining Corporation, Ltd., a lease for 24 years of the Kolchan property consisting of 27 mining claims, area 6,700 acres, situate about 50 miles north-west of Nikolaievsk, in the Ochotsk mining province of Eastern Siberia, of which 1,600 acres are alluvial. The consideration was £30,000 in fully-paid ordinary shares to the Russian Mining Corporation, Ltd., also a royalty of just under 7 per cent. of the gross output on gold produced, payable to the owners. The gold reserves were estimated at £727,000 net. A 7½-foot close-connected bucket dredge, equipped with an electrical power dredge, is being erected, and is expected to start work about August, 1911. Operations are in progress on the Nikolaievsk claim.

The authorised capital is £920,000, in 170,000 priority shares of £1 each, 876,000 preference shares of 5s. each and 531,000 ordinary shares of £1 each; 318,000 preference and 530,007 ordinary shares are issued and fully paid. The capital was increased from £600,000 to £750,000 in May, 1910, by conversion of 69,000 unissued ordinary into preference shares and creation of a further 600,000 preference shares, and 318,000 preference shares were offered to shareholders at par at the rate of six for every ten ordinary shares held, subscribers receiving a call to June 30th, 1912, over one preference share at par in respect of every two shares taken up. The issue was guaranteed by Siberian Proprietary Mines, Ltd., in consideration of a call to June 30th, 1913, over 360,000 preference shares at par, and to June, 1915, over 39,000 preference shares at par. The capital was increased to present amount in January, 1911. The priority shares are entitled to 85 per cent. of the profits available for dividend each year, and in the event of liquidation to repayment of capital and also 60 per cent. of the balance of surplus assets. In January, 1911, 100,000 priority shares were offered to shareholders at par, payable 1s. on application, 5s. on allotment, and the balance in calls not exceeding 2s. 6d. The subscription of £0,000 was guaranteed by the Siberian Proprietary Mines, Ltd.

The accounts for year to January 13th, 1910, submitted July 20th, 1910, showed Orsk Mines account £494,172; Kolchan Alluvial property account £52,068; London expenses £4,523; cash £1,172, debtors £1,792; creditors £6,803, loan against charge on property £16,985 (preference shares since issued and loan discharged).

THIS company was registered on the 19th April, 1893, and is a reconstruction of a company of the same name, registered on January 31st, 1884 (see vol. for 1900), to work gold-mining properties, comprising about 8,000 acres, known as Raposos, Espirito Santo, Borges, and Passagem, in the province of Minas Geraes, Brazil. In 1899 the Raposos and Espirito Santo properties were sold to the St. John Del Rey Co. for £6,000. In 1900 the Santa Anna property, comprising the Maquiné Mine and the Santa Anna mine, about one square mile in extent, situate three miles from the Passagem mine, and formerly belonging to the Santa Anna Gold Mining Co., Ltd., was purchased for £4,500, payable chiefly in preference shares fully paid. These properties (the Santa Anna and Maquiné) are being developed under an option granted by the company, and in the event of one or both mines being purchased, the company will receive £10,000 cash for each mine acquired, and in addition 15 per cent. in fully-paid shares of each company formed to work the properties. The Boa Esperanca and the Valle Quem Tem properties, adjacent to Passagem mine, were acquired in 1901. Eighty stamps and sands and slimes plant are at work; a further 20 stamps and chlorination plant were acquired with the Santa Anna property. Yield for 1908-9, 73,166 tons, yielded 25,050ozs. gold; costs 23s. 6·2d. per ton; 1909-10, 75,612 tons yielded 27,060ozs.; costs 24s. 3·7d. per ton. Estimated ore reserves at June, 1909, 202,030 tons; at June, 1910, 169,991 tons.

The authorised capital is £140,000, in 40,000 ten per cent. cumulative preference (with priority for capital) and 100,000 ordinary shares of £1 each; 36,634 preference and all the ordinary shares are issued and fully paid. One share credited as 15s. paid was offered for each old fully-paid £5 share. In 1895 the capital was increased to £100,000, 20,000 new shares being issued to shareholders at par. In 1900 the capital was increased to present amount by creation of the preference shares. Debenture-holders in the old company received new debentures (£47,720) in exchange, and a further £7,280 were issued in January, 1898, at £18 per £20 bond; debenture-holders were afterwards offered fully-paid preference shares in exchange for their bonds, and those not so exchanged have been redeemed.

Dividends paid on ordinary: 1s. per share in 1895; 1s. in 1896; 6d. October 31st, 1902; 6d. October 29th, 1908; 6d. December 7th, 1910.

The accounts for year to June 30th, 1909, submitted December 8th, 1909, showed gold sales £100,609 and a profit of £13,188, making with balance forward a sum of £14,110; preference dividends absorbed £3,663, written off buildings, etc., £5,000, depreciation £2,742, leaving £2,705 carried forward. This company was registered June 25th, 1898, and is a reconstruction of the Palmarejo Mining Co., Ltd., registered on July 31st, 1886 (see vol. for 1900), to acquire silver and gold mines known as Palmarejo, situate in the western part of the State of Chihuahua, Mexico. In 1895 the undertaking of the Mexican Mineral Railway Co., Ltd., formed in 1888, to construct a mineral railway and water conduit upon the Palmarejo Co.'s property, was acquired. The company has since purchased, for £98,000, the property of the Gold Fields of Mexico, Ltd. (registered June 15th, 1896, see vol. for 1892), comprising 30 square miles in Hurnapa district, Chihuahua, Mexico, with various gold and silver mines thereon. In March, 1903, the Oxnam Prospecting Co. (No. 1), Ltd. was formed to deal with a portion of the property, but in July, 1909, the property and plant were re-acquired for 40,000 fully paid shares. An adjoining timber estate has been acquired, making the company's total holding 128½ square miles. A 60-stamp mill and reduction works are erected but are now obsolete and a new plant is to be erected. Crushing has been suspended since November, 1908. Development work is in progress. Estimated ore reserves at June, 1910, 105,629 tons value 41s. per ton and 148,047 tons value 38s. per ton.

The authorised capital is £560,000, in 210,000 preference shares of £1 each and 1,400,000 shares of 5s. each; 841,664 ordinary shares are issued and fully paid. The capital was increased from £350,000 in December, 1910, by creation of the preference shares. The capital, originally £700,000 in £1 shares, was increased in April, 1909, to £875,000 by creation of 700,000 shares of 5s. each, all shares having equal rights, and 100,000 were offered to shareholders at par, the issue being guaranteed for a commission of 5 per cent. In October, 1910, it was reduced to £350,000 by writing 15s. off each £1 share. There are £31,330 five per

THIS company was registered May 15th, 1874, to take over the colliery properties of the firm of Pearson & Knowles, also the ironworks of the Dallam Forge Co., Ltd., and the Warrington Wire Iron Co., Ltd., and to carry on coal mining, iron manufacturing and engineering operations in Lancashire. During the year 1890-91 the company sold certain properties to the Lancashire and Yorkshire Railway Co., and the Leeds and Liverpool Canal Co., for the sum of £9,665 7s. 2d.; in the same year the company acquired the lease of the Chisnall Hall Collieries, comprising about 200 acres at Coppull. During 1907, the Junction Colliery, Bickershaw, was acquired, also the Moss Hall, Low Hall, and Maypole Collieries, at Platt Bridge, Hindley and Abram, near Wigan, the property of the Moss Hall Coal Co., Ltd., by acquiring a controlling interest in that company. The coal contents of the Maypole colliery were estimated at 60,000,000 tons. Works for the manufacture of steel are being erected on the banks of the Manchester Ship Canal.

The authorised capital is £1,000,000, divided into 50,000 six per cent. cumulative first preference and 28,000 six per cent. cumulative second preference and 122,000 ordinary shares of £5 each; all the preference and ordinary shares have been issued, the first preference and ordinary being fully paid and the second preference having £1 15s. paid, the balance being payable £1 5s. March 31st, 1911, and £2 June 30th, 1911. There are £145,400 five per cent. bonds created 1907 to acquire the Moss Hall Collieries, &c., redeemable in 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5 years. The capital, formerly in £50 shares, was sub-divided in June, 1899, when 6,460 of the preference shares were issued. In October, 1910, 28,000 unissued ordinary shares were converted into second preference shares and offered pro rata to shareholders. The preference dividend is paid in March and September. The following dividends have been paid on the ordinary shares since 1879-80 (for the years ending 30th June):—

THIS company was first formed in 1836, and was registered with limited liability on the 24th March, 1871. The properties consist of iron and steel works and collieries, the mineral rights covering 2,500 acres, in South Wales; also a brewery; several new pits have been sunk. The revenue is now chiefly derived from the collieries; the manufacture of steel has been abandoned. The chief pits are known as Groesfaen, Pontlottlyn, Penygarreg, Pengam, and New Duffryn. Coal output for 1907-8, 874,030 tons; 1908 9, 959,631 tons; 1909-10, 991,576 tons.

The authorised capital is £1,000,000, in 200,000 shares of £5 each; all the shares have been issued and are deemed to be fully paid, subject to conditions as below respecting 73,062 shares (Nos. 126,939 to 200,000), called new shares, which were issued with £2 10s. per share credited as paid. The capital was originally £650,000, in 10,000 shares of £50 and 10,000 shares of £15, but was increased in November, 1881, to its present amount by the creation of 70,000 new shares of £5, the old shares being subdivided into £5 shares at the same time. The new shares were offered, with 3,062 unissued old shares, to shareholders pro rata with the sum of £2 10s. per share credited as paid thereon, the final instalment of 5s. of the £2 10s. cash paid thereon (making fully-paid) being due on June 1st, 1898. The question dealing with the possible liability on these shares issued as £2 10s. paid (or £2 10s. discount) has been submitted to counsel, and in 1899 special resolutions were passed to treat the shares as fully paid, but making the £2 10s. per share reserve capital to be called up only in the event of winding up, and giving holders of discount shares prior rights for return of capital to the extent of any portion of the £2 10s. per share so called up; for this purpose a special Act of Parliament has been obtained.

There are 5 per cent. mortgage debentures amounting to £302,000 in bonds of £20, £100, and £500, balance of £350,000 issued in exchange for six and seven per cent. bonds outstanding, and forming a floating charge on the property, interest being payable half-yearly on the 30th June and 31st December. The bonds run for 99 years from January 1st, 1887, and are redeemable at par by annual drawings of £4,000 in June (which commenced in 1899), for payment on the following December 31st; after redeeming £4,000 in December, 1910, £302,000 remained.

In January, 1906, £150,000 (part of £200,000) five per cent. first mortgage new pits debenture stock in not less than £10 fractions was offered for public subscription and allotted and the balance (£50,000) was offered to debenture and share-holders at par in March, 1908, and allotted; interest payable May 1st and November 1st; stock may be repaid by the company at 105 per cent. after 10 years, by giving six months' notice, and will also be redeemable at same rate in the event of voluntary liquidation for purpose of reconstruction or amalgamation.

An interim dividend is, when available, declared in January. Dividends paid since 1879-80 :—

THIS company was registered September 20th, 1889, to acquire the Haydock collieries and works, together with stock, plant, lands, and business of Richd. Evans and Co., at Haydock and elsewhere, in Lancashire, Cheshire, and Wales. The consideration was £782,255, payable in cash, but a sum of £143,403 was afterwards deducted in respect of a deferred rent of £2,000 and certain obligations included with the property. In 1891 a freehold estate, under which some of the mines are situated, was acquired at a cost of £14,980. The company's collieries are known as Haydock, Ashton, Edge Green, Parr and Golborne.

The authorised capital is £700,000, divided into 47,000 A and 23,000 B shares of £10 each; 43,502 A and 15,979 B shares have been issued and £562,852 is paid up, the A shares being fully paid and the B having £8 per share called up. The liability on the B shares is payable in calls not exceeding £1 per share at intervals of not less than three months. The last call made was payable on 31st January, 1895. The whole of the shares were offered for public subscription in November, 1889, the A shares being payable in full and the B shares to be £3 paid. The only difference between A and B shares is in the amount paid up.

There are £300,000 four per cent. first mortgage debentures (registered) in bonds of £100 each, partly issued in January, 1899, in exchange for former five per cent. bonds; interest is payable January 1st and July 1st, and the principal is repayable 1919, or earlier at the company's option, on six months' notice, after January 1st, 1908.

THIS company was registered in Arizona, U.S.A., during 1906, and owns gold and silver mining properties, area 187 acres, situate at Guazapares, Arteaga district, State of Chihuahua, Mexico. The property, being situated on the side of a mountain, is being developed by six main tunnels. A 25-stamp mill and a 100-ton cyanide plant are erected. Output for 1909, £90,000; 1910, £115,000 approximately. The authorised capital is $2,000,000, in 400,000 shares of $5 each; 373,438 shares are issued and fully paid. Dividends paid: December, 1909, 1½ per cent.; March, 1910, 2 per cent.; June, 1910, 2 per cent.; September, 1910, 2 per cent.; December, 1910, 2 per cent. The accounts to November 30th, 1909, submitted at Phœnix, Arizona, January 11th, 1910, showed $363,790 carried forward to credit of profit and loss account.

Extract from second annual report, dated Jan. 26th, 1910:—Notwithstanding some difficult and adverse circumstances, the record for the year was one of substantial progress. The important accomplishments have been:—1. The paying off of all indebtedness on the mine, funds for which were derived from the sales of the product, and amounted to $109,013. 2. Completing of the plant and improvements as follows: Cyanide plant; auxiliary steam power plant; increased water power plant; two tube mills (for re-grinding tailings); electric power plant. Total disbursements for these purposes amounted to $105,607. At the close of the year the property stood clear of indebtedness, with a surplus of cash assets over current liabilities. An item of special importance is the auxiliary steam power plant. It is so arranged that it may be brought into use to supply deficiency in the water power, caused by low water. In the event of a prolonged drought, the steam power will be ample to operate the cyanide plant or the stamp mill, or a part of both, as may be most advantageous. The severe drought, which began early in the year, enforced a curtailment of production, yet the operations yielded a profit of $97,766, which has been carried to the credit of surplus earnings, bringing the total from the mining operations for two and a fraction years, up to the sum of $363,790—a remarkable record.

Extract from General Manager's report attached to before-mentioned report: The length of the six tunnels at December 1st, 1909, were as follows: La Obra (No. 1), 555 feet; San Antonio (No. 2), 850 feet; San Miguel (No. 3), 448 feet; San Felix (No. 4), 245 feet; San Gonzales (No. 5), 404 feet; San Jose (No. 6)., 310 feet. There was mined during the year 14,580 tons of ore averaging 63·8 ozs. of silver, containing 930,638 ozs. from which was sorted 35·1 tons shipping ore, assaying 1,135·3 ozs., containing 39,851 ozs., and sent to the mill 14,545 tons averaging 61·21 ozs. The cost of milling was $1·89 per ton; this covering labour, timbers, explosives, hoisting and tramming.

The following statement gives, in brief, the results of the year's work: Delivered to the mill, 14,545 tons of ore; average assay value, 61·21 ozs. of silver; total contents, 890,787 ozs. of silver; recovered in concentrates, 360,776 ozs. of silver; tailings from concentrates, 14,212 tons; contents, 530,011 ozs. of silver; average value, 37·3 ozs. per ton; treated by cyanide, 2,143 tons tailings; contents, 70,031 ozs. of silver; recovered, 61,361 ozs. of silver; extraction, 87·6 per cent.; leaving for storage, 12,069 tons tailings; contents, 459,980 ozs. of silver; average value, 38·1 ozs. per ton; total tailings stored to December 1st, 1909, 26,685 tons; contents, 1,105,098 ozs. of silver; average value, 41·03 ozs. per ton; cost per ounce of silver recovered, 27·5 cents.; cost per ton of ore handled, $8·181.

The authorised capital is £3,500,000, in 325,000 preference shares of £5 each, and 375,000 ordinary shares of £5 each; all the shares are issued and fully paid. The capital was formerly £3,250,000, in 325,000 ordinary shares of £10 each; the shares were subdivided into preference and ordinary £5 shares in May, 1897; in November, 1905, it was increased to present amount by addition of 50,000 ordinary shares which were issued to ordinary shareholders at £63 each £5 share; the proceeds of this issue were used in the entire redemption at par of £2,989,740 mortgage bonds, being the total amount then outstanding. The preference shares are entitled to a cumulative dividend of 5 per cent. per annum (with priority for any return of capital), the ordinary shares taking the whole of the available surplus profits. In a division of assets the preference are only entitled to a return of the nominal amount of the shares, with any arrears of dividend.

The following dividends were paid on the old ordinary £10 shares:—

For	per sh.	For	per sh.	For	per sh.	For	per sh.	For	per sh.

in fully-paid ordinary shares and £50,000 in cash. In 1894 a further 70 acres were acquired adjoining View Park, and in 1896 about 40 acres adjoining the Herbertshire. In 1902, the company purchased the View Park Estate, and during 1908, the Longdales property intersecting the View Park Estate was also acquired.

The authorised capital is £205,000, in 10,000 preference shares of £7 each and 15,000 ordinary shares of £9 each; all the shares are issued and fully paid. The original capital was £250,000 in £10 shares, the preference being offered for public subscription in January, 1893; the capital was reduced in 1899 to £235,000 by writing off £1 per ordinary share loss on collieries abandoned, and in December, 1900, the preference capital was reduced by paying off £3 per share, leaving the capital as above.

In addition to a cumulative preferential dividend of 6 per cent. per annum the preference shares were entitled, so long as the preference share capital stood at £100,000, to one-third of the divisible profit remaining over after payment of a non-cumulative dividend of 6 per cent. on the ordinary shares, but in February, 1907, it was resolved that the residue be divisible between both classes pro rata. To provide for the gradual reduction of the preference share capital, there is to be set aside annually as a special reserve out of the profits remaining over after payment of the preference dividend, and before any dividend is paid on the ordinary shares, a sum of £5,000, to be applied in the rateable reduction of the preference capital, such annual payment being cumulative. The company may not create or issue any debentures or debenture stock, or any preference shares to rank either preferably to or pari passu with the preference shares now issued, without the consent of the holders of three-fourths of the preference capital.

For the year 1900-1 preference and ordinary received 3 per cent. each half-year and also a further 14s. per preference share and 23s. per ordinary share in August, 1901, out of surplus profits. From 1901-2 to 1905-6 the preference received 6 per cent. each year, and for 1906-7, 8 per cent. was paid on pref. and ord.; 1907-8, 10 per cent. on pref. and ord.; 1908-9, 6 per cent. on pref. and ord.; 1909-10, 6 per cent. on pref. and 4 per cent. on ord.

The accounts for year ended May 31st, 1910, submitted in Glasgow August 4th, 1910, showed £2,832 credit carried forward after paying preference and ordinary dividends, writing off £9,000 depreciation, and £2,000 to special depreciation fund. General reserve £32,500.

THIS company was registered February 15th, 1864, to acquire and work collieries in Monmouthshire. The company has entered into agreements with Lancaster's Steam Coal Collieries, Ltd., taking effect from July 1st, 1891, which provide for the lease and ultimate sale of the property to that company, they paying a fixed annual rent to this company of £10,000, and further engaging to pay to trustees yearly a stipulated sum of £3,000 towards the purchase money, which is calculated with compound interest to be sufficient to provide at the expiration of the lease in March, 1916, the sum of £123,248, the sale price. The annual instalment of £3,000 incidental to the purchase price may be paid by the Lancaster Co. in cash, or it may be satisfied, wholly or in part, by the surrender to the South Wales Colliery Co. of the equivalent in A shares, taken for this purpose at £13 per share. The shares so surrendered are cancelled, and a similar number of Deferred A shares are issued in exchange. The deferred A shares that may be issued rank with other shares for dividends, but are not to participate in the division of surplus assets in the event of the company being wound up until the B and new B shares are paid in full and £13 per share has been paid to the holders of A shares; 3,124 A shares have been so surrendered and converted into deferred A shares.

The authorised capital (originally £200,000) is £184,000, divided into 8,000 A shares of £17 each, and 8,000 B and 8,000 new B shares of £3 each, of which all the A and B and 5,624 new B shares have been issued and £168,436 is paid up, the A and B shares being fully paid and the new B having £1 10s. per share called up; 3,124 of the A shares are deferred as to capital as above. The B and new B shares are first entitled to a cumulative preferential dividend of 10 per cent. per annum, after which all shares rank alike for further profits.

For the year 1891 the dividend paid on the A shares and the excess dividend (beyond 10 per cent.) paid on B and new B shares was 7½ per cent.; for 1892, 1893, 1894, and 1895, it was 4 per cent. each year; for 1896, 2 per cent.; for 1897 and 1898, 4 per cent. each year; for 1899, 7 per cent.; from 1900 to 1909, 4 per cent. each year.

The accounts for year ended December 31st, 1908, submitted February 2nd, 1909, showed £10,013 profit, making with balance forward £11,360; dividends absorbed £9,981, leaving £1,379 carried forward.

The accounts to December 31st, 1909, submitted February 3rd, 1910, showed a profit of £9,967, making with balance forward £11,347; dividends absorbed £9,981, leaving £1,366 carried forward.

Transfer form, common; fee, 2s. 6d. Latest price, A shares, 11¼, 12¼; B shares, 3⅝, 3⅞; new B shares (£1 10s. paid), 1⅞, 2⅛.

Extract from chairman's speech at general meeting held October 18th, 1910:—You will notice that between October and June this year we produced more copper than we did during the whole of the previous twelve months, while the cost of production in Siberia has been reduced from £60 per ton to under £40. We can tell you with confidence that this process of increase in production and decrease in costs is by no means ended, and Mr. Woolmer, resident manager, tells us that when the second Bessemer convertor, which is now being erected is at work he will increase the output to the basis of about 300 tons a month, and he foreshadows a further considerable increase during next year. At Yuspenssky Mine progress has been exceedingly satisfactory and two new levels have been partially opened up at a depth of 420ft. and 490ft. These levels have already developed a large quantity of high-grade ore. At the 420ft. level we have found marvellously rich ore. I do not wish to expatiate upon it, but I believe the ore body in that level is the richest that has been found in any mine. At the 490ft. level the ore body was not so rich, but we are driving along the level, and it is getting richer every day. As we have not driven very far into this level it would not be right to say anything more about it; but the 420ft. level has opened up most marvellous ore, more so, perhaps, than has been seen anywhere—at least, so I am told by those who have seen it, and by the engineer. We have no estimates or reserves of ore, but we already know enough to be sure that, taking only the high-grade sulphide ore into consideration, we have enough in these two levels alone to supply the smelters for some years to come on a larger basis of production than any that has yet been attempted. Up to the present we have only treated ore by direct smelting and have not attempted to concentrate our lower-grade ores. A great many experiments have been conducted in London and we have achieved what appears to be successful results with the oil process. A small unit of oil concentrating plant has been shipped to Spassky, and during the coming year we shall know whether it is likely to succeed. You will observe that Mr. Woolmer devotes a considerable portion of his report to the subject of general prospecting. He feels, as we do, that we have now arrived at a stage at which we can usefully and profitably devote more attention to it than hitherto. Our property extends over an area of nearly 120 square miles. Besides the Yuspenssky Mine it includes what is known as Spassky No. 1 and other copper areas, two coal deposits, the Karagandy and the Soran, besides other deposits of ironstone, clay, limestone, &c. The Spassky No. 1 Mine is full of water, and our data regarding it are but slight. We know that the original owners worked it, and obtained a fair amount of ore, approximating from 6 per cent. to 8 per cent. copper; but the fact that they abandoned it when the Yuspenssky was discovered points, of course, to the latter being the richer mine. We shall conduct a systematic exploration, with the object of discovering an extension of the Yuspenssky ore body. This deposit occurs between a slaty formation and granitic sandstone. Owing to considerable over-burden of about 20 to 30 feet, surface prospecting cannot be expected to show much result; but the contract is known to extend for many miles, and it is exceedingly probable that other valuable ore bodies occur along this limit. A larger and even more important question, perhaps, is the present position occupied by your company in South-West Siberia. I think there can be no longer any doubt that this district is highly mineralised, and that it is likely, before many years are over, to become one of the great copper-producing centres of the world.

THIS company was registered in Edinburgh June 23rd, 1896, to acquire and carry on the iron, steel and coal business of the Summerlee and Mossend Iron and Steel Co., at Glasgow, Coatbridge, Mossend, and elsewhere, with the works, collieries and other properties. The purchase consideration was £600,000, paid £200,000 in cash, £300,000 in 30,000 fully-paid ordinary shares, and £100,000 in 10,000 fully-paid preference shares. The steel works were sold as on January 1st, 1906, and the company's name was changed from Summerlee and Mossend Iron and Steel Co., Ltd., to above in March, 1906.

The authorised capital is £600,000, in 30,000 4 per cent. cumulative preference and 30,000 ordinary shares of £10 each; all the shares are issued and fully paid. The capital was formerly £200,000, and in March, 1898, 66,667 preference and 66,667 ordinary were offered for public subscription; in 1900 the capital was increased to £300,000, and in 1902 to present amount; in February, 1903, 850,000 ordinary shares were issued to shareholders at par.

There are £37,801 10s. five per cent. prior lien debentures, £942,900 five per cent. first mortgage debentures, £348,241 six per cent. second mortgage debenture stock and £116,277 10s. six per cent. income debenture stock.

The first debentures are the balance of £1,000,000 offered for public subscription in July, 1902, redeemable by the operation of a sinking fund by annual drawings, which commenced in October, 1903, at 110 per cent., or by purchase under that price, any not so redeemed to be repayable at 110, December 31st, 1917, or on winding-up; for interest and sinking fund the company was to provide every year not less than £100,000, provision being also made for a special sinking fund in any year in which the output of the company exceeds 9,000,000 tons of coal; the second debenture stock, part of £350,000, was issued December, 1903 and July, 1904, and is redeemable on January 1st, 1920, at par or at any time on six months' notice from company. By agreement of various dates in July, 1904, the interest on the first debentures and second debenture stock is made payable only out of profits as therein defined, but is cumulative and any arrears become payable unconditionally on April 1st, 1912, as to first debentures, and January 1st, 1912, as to second debenture stock. In June, 1907, further capital expenditure being required, it was resolved to expend during the period expiring April 1st, 1912, £60,000 out of revenue before paying interest and sinking fund on first debentures, and after payment of all arrears and full interest on first debentures, to expend a further £25,000 in each year on capital account before making provision for sinking fund. The income debenture stock (£200 000 authorised) is part of £135,000 offered to shareholders in September, 1904; interest is payable out of net income, and the stock is also entitled to nine-tenths of the surplus divisible profits until June 30th, 1930, after which it is redeemable at par at any time on the company giving six months' notice.

The interest on the first debentures is paid to September 30th, 1907, the last payment being made on December 1st, 1910. The preference dividend is payable half-yearly, but is in arrear for period from June, 1903. Dividends paid on ordinary shares: 10 per cent. for 1898-9; 20 per cent. for 1899-1900; 25 per cent. for 1900-1.

The accounts for year ended December 31st, 1908, submitted in Glasgow March 31st, 1909, showed a loss of £18,700, increasing debit balance, to £68,964. The accounts to December 31st, 1909, submitted in Glasgow March 30th, 1910, showed a profit of £10,119, which was transferred to debenture interest and redemption account, making that account £36,997; the debit balance brought forward remained unaltered and was carried forward; postponed interest account £312,053 payable (until 1912) only out of profits.

THIS company was registered April 2nd, 1903, to acquire collieries in the Crow's Nest District, province of Alberta, Canada. In 1904 the company acquired the undertaking of the United Coal Fields of British Columbia, Ltd. (see vol. for 1904), owning neighbouring collieries, also mining claims and land at Kaslo, British Columbia, for 320,000 fully-paid shares. The area of the property (all freehold except about 1,100 acres leasehold) is as follows:—Surface and mineral rights 10,000 acres, mineral rights only 5,190 acres, surface rights only 220 acres, total 15,410 acres. The principal properties are Bellevue, Lille, Blairmore and Byron Creek. The Bellevue and Blairmore properties are traversed by the Canadian Pacific Railway, and Lille is connected with it by a branch line about seven and a half miles in length. The rights over this branch line were acquired by the company during 1910 for £100,000 in debentures. Output for 1907, 264,338 tons; 1908, 221,609 tons; 1909, 374,295 tons.

The authorised capital is £720,000, in 720,000 shares of £1 each; 680,318 shares are issued and fully paid. There are £250,000 (part of £300,000) six per cent. first mortgage debentures in bonds of £20 and £100 each, redeemable by means of a sinking fund to be formed by appropriating the following annual sums:—£3,000 on March 1st, 1911 and 1912, £4,500 on March 1st, 1913 and 1914, and £6,000 on March 1st, 1915, 1916, 1917, and 1918, and on March 1st in each succeeding year such proportion of the monies secured by the debentures for the time being outstanding as together with the funds in hand and accumulated interest thereon will be required to repay such debentures at maturity at par. The sinking fund may, at the option of the company, be applied for redeeming the debentures by drawings at a premium of 5 per cent. up till the 1st March, 1920, and after that date at par, or by purchase in the market at or under those prices. Any debentures not redeemed by the 1st September, 1935, will be repaid on that date at par. The company also reserves the right to increase the amount of the sinking fund, or to redeem at six months' notice, or purchase in the market all or any of the debentures at any price not exceeding the price at which they are for the time being redeemable out of the sinking fund. In March, 1910, £200,000 debentures were offered for public subscription at 95 per cent.; the issue of £150,000 was guaranteed by the Anglo-Canadian Finance Co., Ltd., for a commission of 7½ per cent. upon the first £100,000 and 10 per cent. upon any further debentures subscribed and allotted, and in addition had the right to December, 1910, to take up at 85 per cent. any debentures of the issue not allotted, and the right to March, 1912, to take up 20,000 shares at par. Interest is payable March 1st and September 1st. £100 000 of the debentures (issued for branch line as above) are not to be dealt in for two years from date of issue.

The accounts for year to December 31st, 1909, submitted October 14th, 1910, showed a profit of £18,250, making with balance forward a sum of £39,035; Canadian Government royalty to December, 1908, absorbed £19,385, leaving £19,650, which was written off as depreciation; cash, £857; deposit with French Government, £664; debtors, £41,916; creditors, £147,580.

THIS company was registered in Edinburgh July 14th, 1876, as the Clyde Coal Co., Ltd., to carry on coal-mining operations at Hamilton, in Scotland. In 1892 the company acquired the business and collieries of John Wilson, when the name of the company was changed. In 1894 the company acquired the lease of a coalfield on the estate of Glencraig, near Lochgelly, Fifeshire.

The collieries are known as Shawfield, Brownlee, Law, Gillhead, Douglas Park, E. Parkhead, Clyde, and Glencraig (Fife), covering 3,350 acres; also Crosshill Estates, adjoining Glencraig, acquired in 1902. The company has also acquired the lease of the Saline and Outh coalfields, Fifeshire, about 3,100 acres, near the new Rosyth Naval Base; a railway three miles long has been constructed to develop this property. Plant is being erected, and the Outh portion has been tested by boreholes. In 1909 the Saline Valley Colliery, area 1,000 acres, near Dunfermline, was acquired.

The authorised capital is £230,000, in 4,000 seven per cent. cumulative first preference and 1,000 seven per cent. cumulative second preference shares of £10 each, and 60,000 ordinary shares of £3 each; all the shares are issued, 1,791 first preference and 60,000 ordinary being fully paid, and 2,209 first preference and all the second preference having £5 called, making the paid-up capital £213,955. The capital, originally £150,000, subsequently increased to £190,000, in preference and ordinary shares, was reduced in 1884 to £85,000 by writing off £7 per ordinary share, and the preference dividend was reduced from 10 to 7 per cent. In 1892 the capital was increased to £170,000 by creation of the second preference and 25,000 new ordinary shares. The second preference were allotted to shareholders at par, and the new ordinary at £2 premium. In 1894 the capital was increased to present amount by creation and issue of 20,000 new ordinary shares to shareholders. The uncalled preference capital is payable when required at one month's notice. Dividends paid on ordinary shares:—

Important Announcement to Investors.

ALL ABOUT INVESTMENT

BY HENRY LOWENFELD.

This, the most popular work on Investment ever published, having passed through Two Editions at 6/- and 5/-, is now, by special request, reprinted in a Popular Edition at 1/- NET.

OF no interest to the speculator, this book contains 282 pages of the soundest advice essential to every thinking investor. It shows by simple and lucid argument the necessity of recognising a definite investment aim; it divides investors into ten groups, teaching each reader how to construct a consistent investment plan according to his individual needs.

IN order that the public may inspect Mr. Lowenfeld's work before purchasing same, the Publishers have made arrangements to send a copy ON APPROVAL FOR ONE WEEK on receipt of postcard mentioning "The Mining Manual."

The Mining Investor

A Reliable Guide on Mines.

Edited by H. S. WHEATLEY.

Published on the First of Each Month.

THE MINING INVESTOR is the only Journal dealing with Mining Shares solely on merits. It is, therefore, of invaluable service to the Genuine Investor

THE MINING INVESTOR has no axe to grind; no shares to sell, and is not subsidized.

No Advertisements of any kind are accepted, a feature unique in the annals of journalism. The advice tendered is, therefore, unbiassed for it is free from the influence of the Advertising Columns.

THE Capitalist

ESTABLISHED 1885.

A WEEKLY RECORD OF EVERYTHING OF INTEREST TO INVESTORS.

Special Attention Devoted to Mines.

Important Feature. Free Enquiry Coupon.

PUBLISHED EVERY SATURDAY. PRICE ONE PENNY.

Annual Subscription, payable in advance,

6s. 6d., Post Free (Inland), 8s. 8d., Post Free (Abroad).

THE object of THE CAPITALIST is to deal with financial matters in such a way as to assist the judgment of investors, and to maintain a sound administration of Joint Stock business.

The leading features of THE CAPITALIST are the Record of Dividends; the Analysis of Company Accounts, with comparative illustrations of recent progress and present condition in all important Companies; Reviews of the Money and Stock Markets and of the Mining Market, with weekly comparison of the course of prices; Reports from Working Mines; Reports of Company Meetings, and all the Financial News of the week.

The soundest and most trustworthy advice is given to subscribers who can, by utilising the free coupon published in THE CAPITALIST, obtain information on any security. Investors taking advantage of the Coupon System will find it an invaluable aid to guide them in making a selection of investments. For 6s. 6d. per annum they can obtain 52 letters of advice in addition to THE CAPITALIST weekly by post, and those who rely for their income upon investments cannot fail to benefit from the expenditure of so small a sum.

A.I.M.M.—Associate of the Institution of Mining and Metallurgy.

A.I.Mech.E.—Associate of the Institution of Mechanical Engineers.

Assoc.M.I.C.E.—Associate Member of Institute of Civil Engineers.

A.M.I.E.E.—Associate Member of Institute of Electrical Engineers.

A.R.S.M.—Associate Royal School of Mines.

Acicular.—Needle-shaped.

Adamantine.—Of diamond lustre.

Adit.—A level driven into a mine from the side of a hill.

Adventurers.—A Cornish term applied to partners who work a mine on the cost-book system.

Agate.—A banded form of quartz.

Alloy.—A mixture of two or more metals fused together.

Alluvium.—A deposit formed by streams or estuaries.

Aluminous.—Containing alumina.

Amalgam.—Mercury with which some other metal is alloyed.

Amalgamation.—The process of extracting gold and silver from pulverised ores by the agency of mercury.

Amblygonite.—A more or less rare mineral found sometimes associated with tin stone, containing lithium, besides aluminium and phosphoric acid. Used for the manufacture of lithium preparations in medicine, and should contain at least 5 per cent. lithium to be of commercial value.

Analysis.—The separation of compound bodies into their elementary constituents.

Anhydrous.—Without water in its composition.

Anthracite.—A highly mineralised form of coal. Steam or smokeless coal.

Anticlinal. — When the strata assume an arch-shaped form.

Apex.—The edge of a vein which by its inclination is nearest to the surface.

Arch.—A portion of a lode sometimes left standing in a mine to support the hanging wall.

Arenaceous.—Sandy.

Argentiferous.—Containing silver.

Argillaceous.—Clayey.

Arrastra.—An appliance used for ore-reducing. The ore placed on a hard platform is crushed by means of mules dragging round large stones.

Assay.—The determination of the quantity of pure metal in an ore or alloy.

Attal or Attle (Cornwall).—The waste of a mine.

Auriferous.—Gold-bearing.

Back.—The top section of a lode between the surface and the first level; also, joints running in more or less parallel lines with the formation.

Back Shift.—Afternoon shift of miners.

Bal.—A Cornish name for a mine.

Bank Claim.—A mining claim on the bank of a stream.

Banket. — A gold-bearing conglomerate in which are white quartz pebbles. (South and West Africa.)

Bar.—A hard band of rock, generally a dyke crossing a lode or stream bed.

Bar-diggings.—Placers or gold-washing claims, situated generally at the shallow parts of a stream.

Barrows.—Heaps of waste stuff raised from the mine.

Barytes.—Sulphate of Baryta; a very heavy quartz.

Basalt.—A dark-coloured igneous rock.

Base-metal. — The metals not classed as "noble" or precious.

Basset.—The outcrop of a lode.

Bastard.—Barren.

Batea.—A small, slightly conical dish, generally about 20in. in diameter and 2½in. deep, in which gold-bearing soil is washed.

Battery. — One set of stamps (usually five) which fall in one mortar.

Beataway.—A process of working hard ground by means of wedges and sledge hammers.

Bed. — A seam of ore running horizontally or parallel with the inclosing formation.

Bede.—A kind of pickaxe.

Bed-rock.—The hard solid rock underlying auriferous gravel.

Belly.—A bulge, or mass of ore in a lode.

Bewaarplaatsen. — Depositing site.

Black Band.—A variety of carbonate of iron.

Black Chalk.—A variety of clay containing carbon.

Black Jack.—Zinc blende.

Black Sand (Australia).—Name given to black iron and other metals usually accompanying gold.

Black Tin. — Tin ore dressed ready for smelting.

Blanket Sluices. — Sluices in which blankets are placed to catch the fine particles of gold.

Blast.—To force hot or cold air into a furnace.

Blasting.—The process of breaking hard ground by means of an explosive.

Blende.—Sulphide of zinc.

Blind Lode.—A lode showing no surface outcroppings, and that cannot be found by any surface indications.

Block Claim (Australia). — A square claim whose boundaries are marked out by posts.

Block Reefs (Australia).—Those with longitudinal contractions.

Blocking Out (Australia). — Washing gold-bearing matter in square blocks; also, exposing an ore body on three sides.

Blossom Rock.—Coloured vein stone detached from an outcrop.

Blow.—A large outcrop.

Blue-stone.—Sulphate of copper.

Bonanza.—A Spanish word which signifies prosperity; the term is often used, however, to signify a large deposit of rich ore.

Bonnet.—The roof of a cage to protect against any object falling down the shaft.

Bottom.—The rock formation below the alluvium on which the gold or tin wash-dirt is met with.

Boulder.—A detached rounded mass of rock.

Branch.—A small vein of ore shooting off from the main lode into the "country."

Brattice.—An air-tight partition.

Breach.—The face of a level or drift.

Breasting.—Taking ore from the face or head of a drift.

Briquette.—A small brick. Coal and peat mixed together and hardened are used in this form as fuel. Several mining companies dispose of their products in this form.

Bulkhead.—A partition in a mine for security against fire, water, or foul air.

Bullion.—Gold and silver in bulk uncoined and unmanufactured.

Bunch of Ore.—A small rich patch in a lode.

Burette.—A graduated glass tube provided with a stop cock, by means of which a certain quantity of liquid is allowed to drop out.

Button.—Name given to the globule of metal which remains in the cupel after fusion. Also applied to the globule of metal left in the slag from the scorification process.

Byon.—Ruby-bearing ground.

C.E.—Civil Engineer.

Cage.—Elevator in mine shaft for hoisting and lowering the miners, as well as ore, &c.

Calcining.—Exposure of ore to a moderate heat to create volatilisation.

Cannel Coal.—A highly bituminous coal used for making gas.

Cap.—A mine when the vein matter is barren or when the vein is pinched, or contracted, is said to be "in cap."

Cap Rock.—The formation above the ore.

Carat.—A weight used in weighing precious stones, equal to about four grains; as a term it is used to denote the fineness of gold, 24 carat being taken as pure gold, whilst 18 carat means 18 parts pure gold and 6 of some other metal.

Carbonates.—Substances formed by the union of carbonic acid with a base. Leadville (U.S.) ores, rich in silver but containing a large proportion of carbonate of lead.

Carboniferous.—The geological name given to a formation in which the true coal-measures are found.

Casing.—A plank partition separating the footway from the main part of the shaft.

Cassiterite —Tin-stone, an oxide of tin.

Caunter (Cornwall). — A lode running across a main lode.

Caving.—The falling in of the sides of a shaft or excavation.

Champion Lode. — The main lode, as distinguished from its feeders, spurs, or branches.

Cheeks.—The walls of a fissure vein.

Chlorination.—The extraction of gold by exposure of the pulverised ore to chlorine.

Chute.—A body of ore extending downwards in a vein.

Claim.—The portion of land upon a goldfield to which a miner is legally entitled. A Transvaal claim has an area equal to 64,025 English square feet, and is about 155 feet along the strike of the reef, and 413 feet across the line of reef.

Clean up.—The valuable product collected from the stamp-mill after the ore has been crushed and amalgamated; or, in placer-mining, the valuable particles retained after washing the gravel.

Clinometer.—An instrument for measuring the dip of a vein.

Collar of a Shaft.—The timbers placed to keep the top of the shaft from falling in.

Coarse Lode.—One not rich.

Concentrates.—The richest portion of the ore, obtained by concentration.

Concentration.—A mechanical process by which the richest portion of the ore is concentrated and the less valuable portion separated and removed.

Conglomerate.—Rock formed by rounded stones cemented together.

Contact.—A lode of great length in contact with two kinds of rock, one of which is generally intrusive.

Contact-vein.—A vein lying between two dissimilar formations.

Copper-plates. — The amalgamated plates in a stamp-mill over which the pulverized ore slowly flows from the mortars, and upon which the gold particles adhere.

Cost-book.—A book used to keep all the accounts of a mining enterprise conducted upon the cost-book system, which is a kind of mining partnership allowing a dissatisfied shareholder, or adventurer, to withdraw his name (upon paying his proportion of indebtedness) and decline further liability.

Costean Pits.—Trenches cut at right angles to the strike of the lode.

Counter-lode. — A smaller vein running across the main lode.

Country.—Is the name given by the miners to the rock in which the lode, vein or reef is situated.

Country-rock.—The barren rock near to an ore deposit; or, the rocks in which a mineral vein lies.

Course.—A vein or lode, or the direction taken by them.

Cradle (Australia). — A wooden apparatus for washing gold-bearing dirt.

Creep.—A gradual movement of the ground in mine workings.

Crevicing.—Collecting gold in the crevices of rock.

Croppings.—Parts of the vein above the surface.

Cross-course. — Lodes crossing the main lodes at an angle.

Crosscut.—A level or drive through a lode at right angles.

Crucibles.—Fireproof vessels used in the roasting and melting of ores, &c.

Crusher.—A machine for breaking quartz.

Cut.—To intersect a lode.

Cyanide Process. — A process for the extraction of gold from finely crushed ores, concentrates and tailings by means of cyanide of potassium used in dilute solutions. The gold is dissolved by the solution during percolation and subsequently deposited upon metallic zinc or by other means.

Dam.—A barrier to keep back water.

Dead Ground.—A barren part of a lode is called "dead ground."

Dead Work.—Necessary, but unproductive work in itself, such as sinking shafts, driving levels to open up paying ground; draining, &c.

Delta.—The alluvial land at the mouth of a river, usually bounded by two branches of the river, so as to be of a more or less triangular form.

Deposit.—A mass of rich gravel; a pocket of ore.

Development.—Work done in a mine to open up paying ground, such as sinking shafts and driving levels, &c.

Dialling.—Surveying a mine by means of a dial.

Diluvium.—Drift deposit.

Diorite.—An intrusive rock often called greenstone.

Dip.—The inclination of the strata or lode from the horizontal, a vertical lode being said to dip at an angle of 90°. A lode is also said to dip or underlie so many feet horizontally in so many feet vertical.

Dirt.—Auriferous gravel, wash, or pay-dirt.

Disseminated.—Scattered throughout a rock in the form of small fragments.

Ditch.—An artificial watercourse or aqueduct for conveying water for mining purposes.

Dolly.—To break up quartz with a piece of wood shod with iron, in order to be able to wash out the gold.

Dressing.—Sorting and preparing ores for reduction.

Drift.—An underground working or excavation which is driven horizontally, or nearly so; an alluvial deposit.

Drill.—A steel bar with a chisel-shaped lower end, used in mines for making a bore-hole to put an explosive charge into.

Drive.—A level, drift, or tunnel in a mine.

Druse.—A hollow space in veins lined with crystals.

Dump.—A pile of ore, or waste rock, taken out of a mine and deposited in a heap on the surface.

Dyke. — Intruded igneous rock which fills up fissures and rents in stratified rocks.

Elbow.—An acute bend in a lode.

Elvan.—A vein or course of hard porphyritic rock.

End.—The extremity of a drive.

Exempted Claim (Australia).—A mine allowed to remain unworked some time.

Eye of a Shaft.—The top of a shaft.

Face.—The furthermost end of a level, drift, tunnel, or excavation.

False Bottom.—A bed of wash lying on the top of other alluvial deposits, beneath which there may be a true bottom or lower bed of wash resting directly upon the bed rock.

Fathom.—Six feet.

Fault.—A dislocation or displacement of a lode.

Feeder.—A small vein which joins the main lode.

Ferruginous.—Containing iron.

Fissure.—A crack in the rocks.

Fissure Vein.—Is a fault or fissure filled with mineral matter, in which a sliding action has taken place, and extending for a considerable distance both vertically and horizontally.

Float-Stone.—A cellular quartz rock. The honeycomb quartz detached from a lode is often called float-stone by miners.

Float Gold.—Very fine gold dust which floats in running water.

Floating Reef. — Large loose masses of auriferous quartz found in the alluvium.

Floor.—Where a lode has taken a turn and lies in a horizontal position.

Floured Mercury. — Mercury which is useless for amalgamation purposes, on account of its having a film on it caused by sulphur, arsenic, or some other substance.

Flour Gold.—The finest gold dust.

Flukan.—A vein filled with a soft greasy clay, crossing or running in or under a lode.

Flume. — Apparatus (boxing or piping) used for conveying water from higher ground to alluvial gold diggings.

Flux.—Substance used to promote the fusion of metals in the reduction of ore.

Footwall.—The wall on the lower side of a lode.

Fork or Forcque.—The bottom of a sump, into which the water of a mine drains. To bale a shaft or well dry. A prop with a Y shaped end.

Formation.—A series of rocks that have been deposited successively over the same area; as e.g., the strata which makes up the carboniferous formation.

Fracture.—A break or crack.

Free-gold. — Gold uncombined with other substances.

Free-milling Ore.—Ore which contains "free gold" or silver, which can be readily saved by pulverizing and amalgamation in a stamp-mill.

Friable.—Easily pulverized.

Frue Vanner.—An inclined table over which an endless blanket passes upwards by means of machinery, whilst there is given to the whole a lateral shaking motion; used for concentrating pulp and slimes.

Gad.—A steel wedge used in underground mining.

Gallery.—A level or drive in a mine.

Gangue.—The non-metallic rock material in a lode.

Gangway.—A main level or drift.

Gash-vein.—An irregular vein; a lode where the ore occurs in bulges or pockets.

Gate.—An underground road.

Gob or Goaf.—The worked-out parts of a mine.

Gossan.—Ferruginous rock, usually found covering a lode near the surface.

Grade.—An ore which carries a great or comparatively small amount of valuable metal is called respectively a high or low grade ore.

Grass.—At the surface of a mine.

Gravel. — Water-worn fragments of rock.

Gravel-mine.—A placer-mine; a body of sand or gravel containing particles of gold.

Grit.—Coarse sandstone.

Ground.—Rock at the side of a lode. "Country."

Gulch.—A ravine.

Gully.—A small watercourse falling into a creek.

Gutter. — Lowest portion of an alluvial gold deposit.

Hade. – The dip or angle of inclination of a vein.

Halvans.—Refuse ores which are full of impurities.

Hanging-wall.—The wall on the upper side of a vein.

Harrow (Australia). — An apparatus used for mixing gold-bearing clays.

Head Race.—An aqueduct for bringing water.

Heading Side.—The under side of a lode.

Heading Wall.—The foot wall or lower wall of a lode on to which the headings are thrown.

Headings.—Coarse gravel above wash-dirt.

Heave. — When the lode stops at the end of a level on account of a cross-course it is said to be "hove."

Horse.—A term applied to masses of country rock found in a lode.

Hungry.—Of no value.

Huntingdon Mill. — An ore crusher with revolving grinders instead of stamps.

Hydraulicking.—Forcing down auriferous gravel by discharging water upon it with great pressure through iron pipes.

Hydrous.— Containing water in its composition.

Igneous.—Rocks which have been consolidated from a molten state.

Inch (Miner's).—Is the quantity of water that will pass through a horizontal slit 24in. long by 1in. high, whilst, for pressure, the water level stands 6in. above the slit; this gives 2,274 cubic feet in 24 hours.

Inclination.—The dip of a vein from the horizontal line.

Incline.—A slanting shaft.

Intake.—A tunnel or horizontal opening through which air passes into a mine.

Jigger.—A machine for dressing small ore in which a sieve is dipped or moved about under water.

Joints.—Cracks or partings across the bedding planes of rock.

Jumping a Claim.—1st. To take possession of a mining claim which has been abandoned. 2nd. To take possession of a mining claim liable to forfeiture owing to the requirements of the law being unfulfilled. 3rd. Taking possession of a mine by force. (Note.—After an United States patent has been issued for a mine, the property is the owner's absolutely, whether work is prosecuted upon it or not.)

Junction.—The union of two lodes.

Kati.—Name of a Chinese weight equal to 1⅓lbs.

Keuper.—The upper part of red sandstone formation.

Kibble.—A mining bucket for bringing ore up the shaft to the surface.

Kindly.—A tract of country or a reef is said to be kindly looking when it promises to carry gold.

Leaching.—The process of separating metal from salts by treatment with a solvent.

Lead (pronounced leed).—A defined gutter of auriferous wash.

Leader.—A small lode running into a larger one.

Leadings (Australia).—The unprofitable dirt above pay dirt.

Ledge.—Synonymous with lode or vein.

Levels.—Horizontal passages cut in a mine, by means of which the mine is worked. Levels are generally cut at intervals in depth of from fifty to sixty feet from each other, and numbered according to their distance from the surface, tunnel, or adit.

Likely.—A belt of country or a lode is said to be likely when there are indications of metals.

Lixiviation.—The process of extracting alkaline salts from ore by treatment with water.

Loam.—A mixture of fine sand and clay.

Lob of Gold.—A small bit of rich deposit of gold.

Locate. — To mark out the boundaries of a mine and establish the right of possession.

Location.—A mining claim.

Lode.—Any metalliferous vein; a cleft in the earth's crust filled with mineral, and having well-defined sidewalls.

Lode Plot.—A horizontal lode.

Long Tom.—An apparatus used in the washing of gold-bearing "dirt."

Lute.—Pasty matter to close joints of chemical apparatus and to coat surfaces so as to protect them from the action of flame.

M.I.E.E.—Member of Institute of Electrical Engineers.

M.I.M.E.—Member of the North of England Institute of Mining and Mechanical Engineers.

M.Inst.M.E.—Member of the Institute of Mining Engineers.

M.I.M.M.—Member of Institute of Mining and Metallurgy.

M.I.Mech.E.—Member of the Institution of Mechanical Engineers.

M. Inst. C.E.—Member of Institution of Civil Engineers.

M. Inst. M.E.—Member of Institution of Mining Engineers.

Matrix.—The barren rock, gangue, or earthy substance containing metallic ores.

Matte.—The result of the first incomplete reduction of copper ore.

Mattock.—A miner's pickaxe.

Metalliferous. — Containing metal or ore.

Metamorphic.—A term applied to rocks which have been changed from their original condition by chemical action or other cause.

Mill.—Works for treating ores by other means than smelting.

Mill-dirt.—Free milling ore.

Mill-run. — The result or yield from a certain quantity of ore after actual treatment in a mill.

Mine —Subterraneous workings or excavations to obtain metals, metallic ores, or other mineral substances.

Molybdenite.—A rare sulphate of molybdenum, very similar in appearance and properties to graphite; used in the form of ammonium molybdate to precipitate phosphoric acid, and commercially for hardening steel.

Morgen.—A South African land measure equal to 1·44 claims, or 2·1165 English acres.

Mortar.—The receptacle in which ore is crushed.

Mother Lode. — The principal lode running through a section of country.

Mountain Blue.—Blue copper ore.

Muffle.—A small oven-shaped fireproof furnace.

Mullock.—Country rock or debris.

Mundic.—Iron or arsenical pyrites.

Mynpacht.—That portion (usually about 10 per cent.) of a farm proclaimed as a public goldfield, which the freeholder has the first right to peg out for himself.

Nip.—Where a vein becomes small in passing through hard country.

Nodule.—A small concretionary mass of rock.

Nugget.—A solid lump of alluvial gold.

Open-cast.—When a lode outcrops at the surface and is taken bodily out without sinking a shaft.

Open-cut.—A working or excavation opened from the surface.

Ore.—A mineral compound or substance containing metal.

Outcrop.—Parts of a vein which appear on the surface or close to the surface.

Ovoid.—Egg-shaped.

Paddock.—A way of working a claim, the whole mass being taken out in the form of a large square pit.

Pan.—A dish for washing the sand, clay, &c., from gold. Also to wash auriferous dirt.

Panning.—To wash earth, gravel, or crushed rock by hand in a pan, in order to obtain the particles of gold.

Pay-dirt.—Auriferous gravel rich enough to pay for washing or working.

Pay-streak.—The rich part of a mineral vein.

Petering.—The pinching out of a vein.

Pickul, Picul, Pik'ul.—Name of a Chinese weight of about 133⅓lbs.; 16·8 piculs=1 ton.

Pike (see Mattock).

Piping.—Washing gold deposits by means of a hose.

Pitch (Cornwall).—The part of a lode let out to be worked on tribute.

Pillar.—Part of the lode or seam left standing as a support.

Pinch.—A lode is said to pinch when it becomes small.

Pipe.—A narrow portion of rich ore running down the lode.

Placer.—A deposit of rich particles of loose gold; not a vein.

Plane.—A level surface bounded by straight lines, as the faces of crystals.

Pocket.—A mass or body of rich ore in a vein, of small extent.

Prop.—A support for roof or wall of a mine.

Prospect.—To search for mineral lodes or deposits; a term applied to unprospected ground.

Prospector. — A searcher for metals or minerals.

Purser.—A paymaster and accountant at a mine.

Pyrites.—A sulphuret of iron.

Quarry.—A large open working with a roadway into it.

Quartz.—Silicious or non-metallic vein stuff occurring largely associated with ores.

Quartzite.—An altered sandstone in which the grains of sand have been fused together or cemented by silica.

Quartz Ore.—A rock containing a large quantity of quartz.

Race.—An aqueduct to or from a water wheel.

Rake-vein.—A vein or lode cutting through the strata.

Reduction. — The process of separating of metals from their ores.

Reef.—A quartz lode, or vein.

Reef Wash.—Gold-bearing drift where two underground leads join.

Refining. — Separating the ores or purifying crude metallic products.

Refractory.—An ore is said to be refractory when it is difficult of fusion.

Reserves.—The rich vein matter left standing in a mine.

Rib.—String of ore in a lode.

Riddle. — A large iron sieve for sifting ore.

Rider.—A mass of country enclosed in a lode. A horse.

Rise.—An ascending gallery at the end of a level.

Rock.—A geological term for the masses which compose the earth's crust.

Rock-breaker.—A machine used to break rock into small pieces.

Rock-drill.—A machine for boring holes in rock, and generally worked by means of compressed air.

Rocker. — A trough in which auriferous sand or gravel is washed to collect the particles of gold.

Rolls.—Crushing rollers.

Roof.—Overhead in a mine.

Run.—Course of the lode or rich gutter (a run of gold).

Runs.—Percentage of metal to ton of ore.

Salting.—Placing rich ore in a mine for deceptive purposes.

Scall.—Loose ground.

Schist.—A rock with a foliated structure due to the minerals being in layers.

Scrin.—Smallest kind of vein.

Seam.—A bed of coal. A horse-load of tin.

Seat.—The bottom or roadway of a mine.

Sectile.—Easily cut.

Set.—A frame of timber cut ready for putting into a shaft or drive.

Sett.—A certain portion of ground in which mines are situated.

Setts.—Timbers placed in the interior of a mine to support excavations.

Shaft.—A deep pit or opening sunk from the surface, and by means of which a mine is worked or prospected.

Shakes.—A crack or fissure.

Shelf.—A ledge of bed rock upon which drift rests.

Shift.—Time during which men work in a lode.

Shoding.—Tracing pieces of detached veinstones to the parent lode.

Shoot.—A passage through which ore is passed from a higher to a lower level.

Sink.—An excavation under a level To "sink" is to excavate downwards in a mine.

Skit.—A Cornish term for a pump.

Slag.—The waste from metal smelting.

Slickensides.—Name given to smooth striated surfaces of rocks or of mineral lodes.

Slide.—A small fault or disturbance in a lode.

Slimes.—The very finely divided ore which is most difficult to save.

Slip.—A fault.

Slip-vein.—A mineral vein accompanied by faulting or dislocation.

Slovan.—The "cropping out" of a lode or strata.

Sludge.—Mud.

Sluice.—A long trough with a loose bottom, on which there are small cross-bars, or in which there are holes. Through this trough the wash-dirt is carried by a stream of water, the gold being left behind at the bars or under the false bottom.

Sluicing.—Washing auriferous sand through long boxes or sluices.

Smelting.—The process of extracting metals from their ores by fusion.

Sole.—Floor or bottom of a level.

Spar.—A Cornish name for quartz.

Spur.—A small vein leaving the main lode, but not returning to it.

Squeeze.—A pinch of the vein in passing through hard bands of rock; this term is also used to describe the collapse of workings through surrounding pressure.

Stamps.—Heavy pestles for pulverizing quartz.

Stamp-mill.—An ordinary stamp-mill consists of an upright frame, heavy iron pestles or stamps—weighing from 400 to 1,500 pounds—mortars, screens, inclined tables, and other accessories; and the motive power is steam or water. The weight of the stamps, number of times they drop into the mortars per minute, and the amount of ore they crush per day, varies in different localities, according to the quality of ore required to be crushed.

Standard Gold.—Twenty-two parts of pure gold alloyed with two parts of copper or other metal.

Stanniferous.—Containing tin.

Stopes.—The workings in a mine between levels from which the ore is taken in a series of steps, called overhead or underhand stopes, according as are above or below a level.

Stoping.—Breaking ore in a section of ground, above, below, or between levels or drifts. Breaking ore overhead in a level is called "overhand stopping" breaking ore under the feet in a level is called "underhand stoping."

Strake.—An inclined board used in the separation of gold from small quartz.

Stratum.—When rocks lie in layers one above another, each layer forms a stratum, and the whole series the formation.

Streak.—The appearance of the surface of a mineral when scratched.

Streaming.—Separating ore from gravel by the aid of running water.

Stream Tin.—Tin ore occurring in stream beds in the same way as alluvial gold; term used to distinguish it from lode tin.

Strike.—A valuable discovery. The direction taken by the horizontal outcrop of a lode or rock.

Stringer.—A thin course of ore.

Stuff.—Ore associated with the gangue of a lode.

Sulphide.—A combination of metal with sulphur.

SOME REASONS FOR ADVERTISING IN AFRICAN ENGINEERING.

1 BECAUSE it is the only engineering journal written for and circulating throughout the whole of the African Continent.
2 BECAUSE it is absolutely British and advocates exclusively the interests of the British manufacturer.
3 BECAUSE it is read all the world over by those who are interested in engineering progress in Africa.
4 BECAUSE it is owned and edited by people who are thoroughly acquainted with Africa and every word in it is written by competent engineers.
5 BECAUSE it is the only engineering paper in the world which excludes from its columns the advertisements of foreign manufacturers.
6 BECAUSE as a practical business medium in Africa it is more influential than all other engineering journals.
7 BECAUSE it is the only engineering journal which has a department devoted to the promotion of British business interests in Africa.
8 BECAUSE during the last few years it has found agents in Africa and elsewhere for scores of British engineering firms.

EASTERN ENGINEERING is the only Engineering Paper containing a topical monthly record of:—

(1) The Engineering Progress that is taking place throughout Asia.
(2) The Engineering Plant that is required or likely to be required for Asia.
(3) Illustrations and Descriptions of Machinery going or gone to Asia.
(4) New Inventions applicable to Asia.
(5) Reviews of Books, Trade Notes and Trade Publications.
(6) Extracts from the Technical Press for the month.
(7) Letters from Correspondents in various parts of Asia.

Some Reasons for Advertising in EASTERN ENGINEERING.

(1) BECAUSE it is the only Engineering Journal written for and circulating throughout the whole of Asia.
(2) BECAUSE it is absolutely British and advocates exclusively Anglo-Oriental interests.
(3) BECAUSE it is read all the world over by those who are interested in engineering progress in Asia.
(4) BECAUSE it is owned and edited by people who are thoroughly acquainted with Asia, and every word in it is written by competent engineers.
(5) BECAUSE it excludes from its columns Advertisements that are detrimental to British Engineering Interests.
(6) BECAUSE as a Practical Business Medium throughout Asia it is more influential than all other engineering journals.
(7) BECAUSE Advertisers in its pages have the full right to the services of the Overseas Engineering Department, which has for its object the strengthening of business relations between British manufacturing engineers and representatives abroad.

THE

(ISSUED ANNUALLY).

Is a dozen books in one, covering the History, Geography, Geology, Chemistry, Mineralogy, Metallurgy, Terminology, Uses, Statistics and Finances of Copper. It is a practical book, useful to all and necessary to most men engaged in any branch of the Copper Industry.

Its facts will pass muster with the trained scientist, and its language is easily understood by the everyday man.

It gives the plain facts in plain English without fear or favor.

It lists and describes 6,000 Copper Mines and Companies in all parts of the world, descriptions running from two lines to sixteen pages, according to importance of the property, with 24 miscellaneous chapters devoted to the technology and statistics.

The Copper Handbook is conceded to be the WORLD'S STANDARD REFERENCE BOOK ON COPPER.

The Mining Man needs the book for the facts it gives him about mines, mining and the metal.

The Invester needs the book for the facts it gives him about mining, mining investments and copper statistics. Hundreds of swindling companies are exposed in plain English.

Price is $5 in Buckram with gilt top; $7.50 in full library Morocco. Will be sent, fully prepaid, on approval, to any address ordered, and may be returned within a week of receipt if not found fully satisfactory.

IRISH TIMES.

Weekly IRISH TIMES.

IRISH TIMES.

Weekly IRISH TIMES.

THERE are no two opinions about the status of the Irish Times. It holds the premier position in Ireland, having a circulation far more Influential than any other newspaper in that country. It is the largest daily paper in Ireland, and possesses a telegraph wire of its own from London to Dublin. It has a large staff of London and Foreign Correspondents, and local representatives in every town in Ireland. Advertisers should note the fact that the Irish Times is the organ of the moneyed community, and contains more prospectus advertisements than any Irish paper. It daily contains many columns of advertisements more than any other newspaper in Ireland.

THE Weekly Irish Times, price One Penny, is without doubt the best family weekly in Ireland. It is read throughout the land in all families. It is non-sectarian and non-political, gives an exhaustive summary of the events of the week, and abounds in special and interesting features.

The NOTTINGHAM DAILY EXPRESS
is the pioneer of daily journalism in the district lying between Sheffield and London. Its weekly issue has the distinction of being the fourth oldest Paper in the United Kingdom.

The NOTTINGHAM DAILY EXPRESS
is among the most enterprising journals in the Provinces. Its Head Offices in Nottingham are admitted to be the most artistically designed Newspaper building in England out of London, and are connected by telephone with its Branch Offices, as well as being equipped with the very latest appliances and machinery, thus enabling the Proprietors to cope with important news with a rapidity not surpassed by the greatest British journals.

The NOTTINGHAM DAILY EXPRESS
is not only classed among the very foremost journals in the country, but in its own district it is recognised by the public generally as their representative journal.

The NOTTINGHAM DAILY EXPRESS
has a steadily increasing circulation. At the present time it is nearly FIVE TIMES what it was five YEARS AGO.

The NOTTINGHAM DAILY EXPRESS
has its own reporters in all the populous centres throughout its large district, and its service of general news is comprehensive and complete.

The NOTTINGHAM DAILY EXPRESS
is THE popular Paper of the district, and an enquiry of the leading newsagents in the town would satisfy any intending advertiser as to the medium he ought to select.

The NOTTINGHAM EVENING NEWS
is one of the smartest Evening Papers in the Kingdom. In the densely populated colliery districts around Nottingham it is read nightly by this thriving community. It has always devoted special attention to news in which these people are interested, as a result of which it has become practically their sole organ.

also pays special attention to sports of all kinds, and is the recognised organ of this section of the public. The altogether phenomenal sport-loving propensities of the people of this district account for the immense popularity of this Paper.

The EVENING NEWS
furthermore devotes more space to the general news of the day than does any other Evening Paper in the district.

The NOTTINGHAMSHIRE WEEKLY EXPRESS contains a large proportion of light reading—fiction, fashion, illustrations, &c., rendering it an exceptionally good medium for appealing to the home circle. It is the oldest penny weekly in the town.

Any newspaper advertising in this extensive district, containing a population of nearly two millions, if it is to be thorough—and no advertising can be remunerative unless it is thorough—MUST embrace the above mediums. Considering the widespread character of the circulation, the charges for advertisements are exceptionally reasonable.
